Designating Beneficiary(ies) for the Separate Insurance Benefit Plan for Law Enforcement

Page 1 of 1

Guide A. What is the Separate Insurance Benefit Plan for Law Enforcement Officers?

The Separate Insurance Benefits Plan is for any law enforcement officer in the state of North Carolina; a law enforcement officer does not have to be a member of a North Carolina retirement system to be eligible for this benefit (G. S.143-166.60).

Should you die while you are serving as a law enforcement officer, a benefit of $5,000 will be distributed to your surviving spouse, or if there is no surviving spouse, to your estate. But, you may designate a beneficiary(ies) other than the surviving spouse using this form. If you would like for your spouse to be the beneficiary, you do not need to submit this form.

Alternately, should you die while you are retired after a career of 20 or more years as a law enforcement officer or in receipt of a disability benefit from any state-administered Retirement

System, a benefit of $4,000 will be distributed to your surviving spouse, or if there is no surviving spouse, to your estate. But, you may designate a beneficiary(ies) other than the surviving spouse using this form. If you would like for your spouse to be the beneficiary, you do not need to submit this form.

Any beneficiary must meet the requirements in Guide B. You may change your beneficiary(ies) for this benefit at any time.

- You may list one or multiple principal beneficiaries. If you limit your designation to a single principal beneficiary, you may designate one or multiple contingent beneficiary(ies).
- If you list multiple principal or contingent beneficiaries, you may not assign percentages of the benefit to any individual; the benefit will be divided equally among multiple beneficiaries.

Guide B. What requirements should I meet in choosing my beneficiary(ies)?

You must provide the name, Social Security number and date of birth of each beneficiary and indicated whether a spouse.

- Your beneficiary(ies) cannot be an unborn child, a pet, a church, or any institution.
- You do not need permission from the beneficiary(ies) to make or change the designation.
- You do not have to make your beneficiary(ies) aware of this designation.
- You do not have to name relatives as beneficiary(ies).

You have the option to designate as a beneficiary:

- a living person. If you choose one person as your principal beneficiary, you may name contingent beneficiary (ies) in the event the principal beneficiary predeceases you.
- more than one living person to share in the benefit equally. Duplicate and attach additional Continuation Pages if you need additional space to list all beneficiaries.
- your estate. Write ESTATE in the box asking for a beneficiary's LAST name.
- a trustee for a living person. If you name a trustee for a living person, submit a copy of the trust agreement with this form.

Guide C. How is this benefit paid to my beneficiary(ies)?

Upon receiving a certified copy of the final death certificate, the Retirement Systems Division will determine what benefits are payable. Any benefit will be paid to the designated principal beneficiary(ies), but if you designated only one principal beneficiary who is deceased at the time of your death, the benefit will be paid to any contingent beneficiary(ies). If you designated multiple co-beneficiaries and one is deceased at the time of your death, the benefit will be paid to the surviving co-beneficiary(ies).

If a beneficiary is a minor, payment will be made to one of the following:

- the qualified guardian of the minor

- the Clerk of the Court of the County in which the minor resides
- the minor after he/she attains the age of majority. (Generally, the age of majority in North Carolina is 18.)

If you named your estate as your beneficiary, or if no named principle or contingent beneficiary is alive at your death:

- Payment will be made to your estate after an administrator or executor has qualified.
- If there is no qualification, payment could be paid to the Clerk of Court to handle according to the laws of the state.

These guides are subject to and governed by the General Statutes of the State of North Carolina.
