Guide A. What is the Contributory Death Benefit?

What is the Contributory Death Benefit?

The Contributory Death Benefit is an optional benefit which provides a one-time death benefit, up to the amount of $10,000, payable to your beneficiary(ies) after your death. If you choose to participate, you pay a monthly contribution for the coverage.

Who is eligible for coverage?

You are eligible to participate in the Contributory Death Benefit if you are retiring for the first time in one of the following retirement systems:

- Teachers' and State Employees' Retirement System
- Local Governmental Employees' Retirement System
- Consolidated Judicial Retirement System
- Legislative Retirement System

NC Retirement Systems must receive your Form 333 (Choosing the Contributory Death Benefit) within 60 calendar days of the effective retirement date of your first retirement, whether a disability or service retirement. If you are retiring from more than one system, you may elect coverage in each system; however, a separate Form 333 is required for each system. Retirement law allows you only one opportunity to choose this coverage under each retirement system.

Who is the beneficiary?

You may designate any living person(s), your estate, or a trustee for a living person, as your beneficiary(ies) by completing Form 333BEN (Designating Beneficiary(ies) for the Contributory Death Benefit for Retired Members). If you do not designate a beneficiary, or if your designated beneficiary(ies) is not living at your death, the benefit will be paid to your legal representative (usually the administrator or the executor of your estate, or collector of funds for your estate).

What amount will be payable at my death?

The amount payable at your death is dependent on when your death occurs following your effective date of coverage. If your death occurs on or after the first day of the month following the 24th month of coverage for which the required contributions have been made, the full $10,000 will be paid.

If your death occurs before the first day of the month following the 24th month of coverage, your beneficiary(ies) will receive the total of the contributions you have made plus interest at a rate determined by the Board of Trustees.

When does coverage become effective?

The effective date of coverage is determined by when we receive your Form 333. If we receive your form on or before the 15th day of your effective retirement month, your effective date of coverage will be the first day of the month. If your form is received after the 15th of your effective retirement month, your effective date of coverage will be the first day of the following month.

What is the cost of participation?

The rate you must pay is based on your nearest age at the effective date of coverage. The NC Retirement Systems will deduct this amount from each monthly retirement benefit until your death. The following table gives the monthly rate for life for those from age 50 to age 80. The rates for those over the age of 80 are available upon request.

Age at Effective Date	Monthly Rate for Life	Age at Effective Date	Monthly Rate for Life
Less than 50	$12.54	65	$26.09
50	$12.54	66	$27.56

The NC Retirement Systems reserves the right to change this rate structure for members who retire in the future and choose coverage.

Guide B. If I do choose the Contributory Death Benefit, what happens?How will I pay for this benefit?

If there are sufficient funds in your retirement benefit, the required contribution amount will be deducted from your monthly benefit. If there are not sufficient funds in your retirement benefit, the NC Retirement Systems will send you a bill each month. Your payment is due on the 25th of each month in the form of a check or money order.

The law does not allow payments in advance of the month due, automatic deductions from a bank account, or cash or credit card payments. Your first monthly contribution is due in the month coverage becomes effective and is due and payable each month thereafter. If your benefit is canceled due to failure to make timely payments, your contributions will not be refunded, and you will not have the choice to resume participation.

May I cancel coverage later? If I do, what happens?

You may request in writing that your coverage be canceled at any time. However, once you cancel your coverage, you will not have the choice to reinstate your coverage under this Retirement System. Cancellations are effective the month that written request is received if received on or before the 10th of the month. Otherwise, cancellations are effective the following month. If the NC Retirement Systems receives this request within 90 days of the effective date of participation, then your contributions will be refunded to you. Otherwise, you will not receive a refund of your contributions.

What happens to the contributions?

The contributions are placed in the Contributory Death Benefit Trust for Retired Members separate and apart from any other trust funds. The Department of State Treasurer invests the funds for the sole purpose of paying the benefits and expenses of the Contributory Death Benefit. The amount due the beneficiary is not based on the performance of the funds. The North Carolina Department of State Treasurer, of which the Retirement Systems Division is a part, solely administers all aspects of the Contributory Death Benefit.
