Guides to Purchasing Retirement Credit for a Period of Service Not Credited by the Former LEORS

Guide A. Why should I purchase retirement credit?

The amount of your retirement benefit is directly related to how much retirement credit you have. Most retirement credit is earned by making contributions to the Retirement System while working and receiving pay from an employer covered by the Retirement System, but some circumstances exist where a purchase of credit is allowed by North Carolina retirement law and may be to your advantage. Form 481 addresses the purchase which may be allowable if you served as a law enforcement officer with a unit that was eligible to participate in the former Law Enforcement Officers' Retirement System (LEORS), but did not, or your service as a law officer was not granted credit in this former system (see 20 NCAC 2K.0502 (c)). For other circumstances, see Guide D.

If this period of service meets the requirements given in Section C of this form, you may be interested in purchasing this retirement service credit. In some cases, the increase in retirement credit from a purchase will result in an increase to your retirement benefit. In other cases, a purchase of additional service will allow you to retire at an earlier age. It could also eliminate or reduce reduction factors that cause your retirement benefit to be reduced because of retirement at too young an age.

If you make a purchase, you are guaranteed that the cost of the purchase (less the $25 administrative fee for making the purchase) may be refunded to you if you decide to withdraw all of your service and contributions from the Retirement System at a later date. Similarly, if you die before retiring, or you die in retirement but before receiving benefits equaling the contributions and purchases you made, your beneficiary (ies) will be entitled to the undistributed contributions and purchases. (No contributions or purchase amounts provided by your employer will be refunded to you.)

Guide B. How do I get a cost statement? What will it say?

First, you must complete Sections A through E of this form. Next, route it to the applicable employer to complete Sections F and G. This employer should submit the form to the Retirement Systems Division to verify your eligibility to purchase and then prepare a cost statement. The cost statement gives the cost of the purchase, how much credit it represents, and whether the law permits you to purchase part or all of the eligible period.

Amount of Cost

North Carolina law specifies the methods for determining the cost of credit for an eligible period. The cost of a purchase depends on when the purchase is made after becoming eligible to purchase the service credit.

(1) Within the first three years of becoming eligible to purchase. The first part of the cost is your monthly compensation at the time your most current membership in the Law Enforcement Officers' System began, times 5%, times the number of months of service for which credit is to be purchased, plus the interest rate of 6.5%, compounded annually from the date of membership to the date of payment. The second part of the cost, which represents your employer's contribution, is the first part of the cost times 135%. Separate employee and employer costs will be calculated; however, if the employer chooses not to pay the employer cost, the entire cost will be your responsibility.

(2) After the first three years of becoming eligible. To get a quick estimate of the cost, use the Service Purchase Estimator available at www.myncretirement.com. The cost of this purchase is the actuarial cost, which is calculated under the same assumptions of interest rates and salary progression as used in the actuarial valuation of the System's liabilities, also taking into account the larger retirement benefit as a result of the purchase starting at the earliest age a member could retire on an unreduced retirement benefit. The entire cost is your responsibility.

Possibility of Employer Sharing the Cost. Retirement law does allow the employer to provide the funds representing the employer's typical contribution or some other part, but it is your responsibility to approach the employer about this possibility with the cost statement. Employers must avoid discriminating against other employees in providing funds for a particular employee's purchase.

Administrative Fee. Additionally, this purchase requires a $25 administrative fee, which is itemized on the cost statement.

Amount of Credit

You will be awarded the same amount of credit you would have earned had your service been creditable.

For category (2), you may choose to purchase all of your eligible credit or you may purchase a portion of it in increments.

Expiration Date of Statement

All cost statements have an expiration date. If you do not make the purchase by that date, the cost of the purchase will have to be recalculated based on the cost method specified by law for the purchase.

Guide C. After I receive my cost statement, how do I make a purchase?

Next you will study the impact this purchase may have on your retirement benefit. You will not be able to make this type of purchase after you retire. You may request the Retirement Systems Division to prepare an estimate of retirement benefits for you with and without the purchase. Or, you may visit www. myncretirement.com to use a web benefits estimator and/or refer to your online member handbook.

If you choose to make the purchase, you may use pre-tax money from an eligible retirement plan or IRA to make the pur-and prepare Form 398 available chase (see www.myncretirement.com). In that case, your administrator will give you a check to forward to the Retirement Systems Division. Otherwise, you will provide a check to the Retirement Systems Division. All checks for one purchase must be received together.

Under certain and limited circumstances, your beneficiary(ies) may complete the purchase process if your death occurs while you are waiting for or evaluating a cost statement.

Guide D. What other types of purchases may be available?

North Carolina retirement law recognizes that you, a participant in the one of North Carolina's Retirement Systems, may not have had the opportunity to make contributions and receive credit for certain periods in your public service career. The following list generally describes other circumstances for which a purchase may be allowed.

- Your employer was not eligible to participate in a Retirement System, but you have public service (federal, federallyfunded, military, or out-of-state service) that you may be eligible to purchase.
- Your employer did not participate in a System, although it was eligible.
- Your employer did participate in a Retirement System, but your position was not eligible for participation at the time.

- You are or were participating in the Retirement System with your employer, but a life or career event caused your service to be interrupted over a period during which you do not work and make contributions.
- You withdrew your service credit and contributions from the Retirement System, but you wish to restore that credit following a return to contributing service for five years.

Not all purchase types are available in all systems.
